Open Letter of Support for Proposed New Building Regulations 'Document Z' - Whole Life Carbon Assessment

Dear Customer,

Timber Innovations support the development and implementation of Document Z, to legislate for whole life carbon emissions reporting.

As a market leading provider of low energy, insulated timber frame and SIPs superstructures, we believe the new legislation will add considerable clarity and mandate measurable reduction of embodied carbon.

Our primary raw material is timber and in our opinion it is the only truly renewable building material.

Timber Innovations are committed to measuring and reporting embodied carbon to allow our customers to make an informed choice.

We continue to reduce our impact on the environment as part of our 2030 commitments and the expansion of the Building Regulations to cover whole life carbon will be a big step forward for the whole industry.

Yours Sincerely

David Himmons
